A wee handy guide of Leith slang to help get you started!

Barry

Denotes something that is very good, perhaps even brilliant.

- A commonly used adjective on Roseleaf menus

Ken

A simple slang adaptation of 'know' - to ken is to know. Those who ken, ken! (ken whit a mean?);

> e.g. "I ken Jonny", a popular phrase to seek favour in the Roseleaf Because one 'kens' Jonny (the owner) isn't always barry, ken?

Blether

To talk or gossip – typically accomplished in groups of at least two over a pot of tea. e.g. "Mon in for a blether, I'll get the kettle on"

Radge

Meaning wild, crazy or violent, radge is a highly versatile word. One can be a radge, or choose to simply 'go radge'. We enjoy it as a casual term of endearment;

e.g "C'mere, yah wee radge."

Shan

Not good, inferior;

e.g. "Your chat is pure shan pal"

Fud

While widely accepted in Leith as a slang term for the female 'lady bits', fud can also be deployed to describe an individual who has just done something stupid.

e.g. "Whit are ye daein', ya fud!"

Telt

To explain something to someone in firm, unmistakable terms, usually at the resolution stage of a dispute;

e.g. "Get him telt!"

Nash

When one has to leave quickly or be somewhere else in a hurry;

e.g. "Ah've got tae nash"
